

About The Henry Ford and Lovett Hall

The Henry Ford, located in Dearborn Michigan, is the largest indoor-outdoor museum complex in the United States and is visited by over 1.7 million people each year. Also known as the Henry Ford Museum of American Innovation and Greenfield Village, the Museum collection contains the presidential limousine of John F. Kennedy, Abraham Lincoln's chair from Ford's Theatre, Thomas Edison's laboratory, the Wright Brothers' bicycle shop, the Rosa Parks bus, and many more historical exhibits. The Henry Ford is a National Historic Landmark.

Lovett Hall is located on the Henry Ford campus. It is the site of unsurpassed elegance where Henry Ford hosted some of the greatest names in history.
